AGS - 40 YEARS AND COUNTING

There are eventful times for people of America and for citizens of Arkansas. The officers, the Board, and membership of the Arkansas Genealogical Society offer our heartfelt prayers and deepest sympathies for the victims of this new terrorist war and to their families and their friends. Along with the others who died on 9/11, several long time genealogists were among those lost. As our lives continue to be disrupted due to the actions of a few deranged men, let us all pray daily for our beloved country. GOD BLESS AMERICA.

The year just ending has been a busy and forward-looking time for the Arkansas Genealogical Society. During this period, we have again come to know that our greatest asset is our membership, which currently stands at about 750. Our members come from all around the country and consists of men and women whose ancestors were among those pioneering souls who carved this state from a wilderness. They are always interested in knowing more about the lives and times of their Arkansas ancestors. There is no better place to satisfy this desire than in the pages of the Arkansas Family Historian.

For a yearly membership fee of $20.00, AGS members receive four issues of a quality publication cram packed with information on Arkansas roots, plus copies of our occasional informative newsletter. Through our annual fall conferences and book fairs, members and guests have access to some of the most informative and knowledgeable genealogical teachers and lecturers in the nation. If you were unable to attend the seminar just concluded, you missed one of our most successful in recent memory. Your interest has enabled the Arkansas Genealogical Society to be in the forefront of efforts to educate both genealogists and the public on matters and issues relating to family history. It works with state leaders to insure adequate funding for the Arkansas History Commission and State Archives in Little Rock and is a frequent contributor of books and microfilm to that agency. If you or your friends are interested in Arkansas family history and are not members, consider this your personal invitation to join for the coming year. Memberships also make a wonderful Christmas or birthday present.

If you have ideas about increasing our membership or suggestions on how we can improve our membership services or our publications, please send them to me at the address below. We want to increase our outreach, especially since 2002 is the 40th anniversary of the Arkansas Genealogical Society. Since its humble beginnings in 1962, AGS has continued to grow. Its publications have increased in number and quality. Thousands of pages of previously hard to find and often unavailable materials have been published. Over the years other genealogical groups have come and gone. However, AGS remains the only state wide genealogical organization in Arkansas. We could not have done it without your continued membership and support. Keep up the good work.

“From a correspondent of the world”

Submitted by Debra Blackard, 350 Hillside Dr., Lamar, AR 72846

Found in the Texas State Library, from The Standard, Clarksville, TX, Friday, 9 Jan. 1880

Witt Springs, Searcy County, Ark., December 20.- At the foot of the Boston Mountains dwells a man named Mason. He is over eighty years old, and his tall figure, white hair and patriarchal air give him an indescribable appearance. His house is rough but comfortable log cabin, and the few acres around it afford ample subsistence. An excellent marksman, he has never abandoned the use of his trusty rifle, while the numerous deer and bear skins within and without the cabin bear ample testimony of his skill and success. With the exception of his wife, he lives entirely alone. But his life has not always been this desolate. Only a few years ago three children brightened his humble home, two boys, John and David, and one daughter, Lizzie, who was a rare, wildwood blossom. Her soft blue eyes and flaxen hair played sad havoc with the hearts of the younger portion of the opposite sex in all that section and many sought her hand in marriage, the fortunate suitor being a young man named Charles McKinley, rather dissipated, not worth a dollar, yet handsome, a very forest Apollo - in short, just the kind of man to win a young girl's heart.

The Mason family were anything but pleased with her choice, and spared no effort to break off the attachment the lovers had for each other. Lizzie, however, would not be moved. Entreaties and threats were alike unavailing. The former gave her courage to plead for Charlie; the latter made her cling the closer to him. The young man was also firm. I will never give up Lizzie, he said, with a big round oath, when questioned on that point.

Finding all other efforts useless the Mason resorted to more violent measures. John Mason met Charles McKinley one day in the forest and a desperate fight ensued in which both were badly cut and bruised, but in which John was decidedly worsted. This stirred up additional bitterness and for a time threatened to draw the majority of the surrounding families into the quarrel and disturb the peace of the neighborhood. Lizzie sought to pour oil on the trouble water, and her gentle words melted the hardened natures that evil passions had filled with wrath. There was reconciliation between her lover and brother, and there was general rejoicing in consequence, when an event occurred which changed amity into distrust and suspicion.

The event was no less than the disappearance of Charles McKinley. He was last seen alive, alone in the forest beyond the mountains and was on the trail of a herd of deer. The most rigid search failed to discover him or any trace of his whereabouts. He had dropped out of sight and life as if the earth had opened and swallowed him up.

All sorts of stories were rife. One said he had been murdered, another that he had run away, still another that he was purposely hiding himself and would suddenly return. But as time went on and he neither came nor was heard of, the suspicion that he had met with foul play gained ground rapidly, growing into certainty in the minds of many persons. Of course John Mason was accused of the murder and though he strenuously denied the charge, the evidence against him was strong enough to warrant his apprehension. Once in the meshes of the law it seemed as if a hundred circumstances came up, all crying trumpet tongued, "Guilty!" Divers persons had heard him threaten to kill Charles McKinley; that young man had himself said that he did not consider his life safe so long as John Mason remained in the country. Even John's father admitted reluctantly that his son had declared his intention of riddling Charles McKinley with buckshot, while David corroborated the parents statement.

Thus the coils of circumstance closed tighter and tighter about the young man, and beyond his bare assertion there was nothing to be said in refutation. The blow had fallen on the young girl with a crushing effect. The sudden disappearance of her lover, the arrest of her brother on the charge of murdering him, almost drove her insane. She however shared the popular opinion that young McKinley had been murdered and that her brother was guilty of the terrible crime. Urged for a reason for her belief: they simply admitted that it rested on the slender foundation of a dream. She admitted that on the night succeeding the day upon which Charles McKinley disappeared she had dreamed that she saw her brother and him in a violent quarrel. The men were in a dark ravine; there was a mountain to the right and a deep dense forest to the left. She had then heard the words: she saw John strike McKinley with the butt of his rifle and fell him to the earth. That blow was fatal. The young man never spoke afterwards. John hid the body in a dark cave in the mountains, and there it still remained.

This dream made a powerful impression upon the young girl, and though many were disposed to laugh at it, even while admitting it told tremendously against her brother, nothing could shake her faith and confidence in its horrible reality! She insisted that it was true, though no trace of the body could be found in any of the numerous mountain caves after most rigid search and the vision rested only upon her individual statement. But her faith gave it tenfold power: her acts seemed to confirm her belief. From that moment she was a changed woman. Slowly she pined away. The color faded from her cheeks, giving place to a death-like pallor; her step, once light and elastic became slow and languid; her eyes lost their tender glance and sparkled with an unearthly lustre; she uttered no complaint. Like the gentle girl who loved the unfortunate Irish patriot, Robert Emmett, she passed to her early grave, forgiving all, beloved by every one, the victim of a broken heart.

John Mason broke jail and fled to Texas, his brother David going into exile with him. This settled all questions or doubts as to his innocence. Flight was accepted by one and all as a confession of guilt. Liberal rewards were offered for the capture of the brothers, David considered as an accessory to the crime, but neither were ever apprehended.

From the Lone Star State they went to Louisiana and in New Orleans fell victims to that dread scourge, yellow fever. Letters now in the father's possession contain the most fervent protestations of their innocence, and subsequent events clearly exonerated them from complicity in the taking off of young Charles McKinley. For years later, when the main actors in this strange episode slept in their quiet graves miles and miles part, when interest in the scenes we have related had almost died away, or was recalled with awe at the hunter's winter fireside, the mystery surrounding the disappearance of the young man was brought to light!

A party of hunters, while chasing a boar in an adjacent county, found his remains in a cave in which the animal they were pursuing had established a lair. There was only a ghastly looking skeleton of a man, a rusted rifle and, rudely carved in the yielding rock upon which it rested these words: "Lost cant find my way out Chas. McKinley." That was all, but it told its own story. It solved an enigma that had darkened many lives. It cleared from the foul stairs of murder, though too late, John Mason and his brother.

Charles Augustus Grier

Charles Augustus Grier was born 9 May 1901 in Randolph County at Biggers, Arkansas. He was the second child of Charles W. and Arkansas E. Barbee Grier. Their first child, a daughter, was born and died on 9 Feb. 1897 in Randolph County and lies buried in Hite Cemetery at Biggers, AR.

Charles Augustus Grier, known as "Gus," was actually born with the name of Augustus E. Grier <sup>(a)</sup> His father, Charles W. Grier died 17 Feb. 1903 before Gus was two years old. His mother, Arkansas E., remarried on 29 May 1904 to Dr. George W. Brumley. <sup>(b)</sup> It is assumed the name change was made to identify Gus as the son of Charles W. Grier.

Charles W. Grier, prior to his marriage to Arkansas E., was previously married and had a son by the name of Frank, born 9 July 1891. An Elvera Grier died 28 Nov. 1892, age 32, and lies buried in Yellow Hall Cemetery located on the Grier family farm at Biggers, AR. It is theorized she could have been Frank's mother and the first wife of Charles W. Grier. Frank's life was short. He died 5 May 1904 at the age of 13 as the result of a cave-in of a tunnel he and Gus dug on the banks of the Current River. Gus was about four years old at the time of the death of his step-brother. Frank's tombstone lists him as son of C. W. and stepson of A. E. Grier. Gus' Stepfather, Dr. George W. Brumley, died in 1914 or just prior to.<sup>c</sup>

Gus is listed in the U. S. Census of Randolph Co., AR, for 1910 and 1920 as Charles A. Grier and Charles Grier. In the 1910 Census he is included along with stepfather, George W. Brumley, and mother, Arkansas E. Brumley. The 1920 census lists him along with his mother, Arkansas Brumley.

Gus married Marion Harrison daughter of Samuel Frank and Kathryn (Katie) Bigger Harrison. The marriage date is not known but family tales state Marion and Gus lived in the house with Arkansas E. Grier Brumley in their early marriage and Marion could not conceive because of her feelings for her mother-in-law. Arkansas E. died 24 May 1930 and Eddie Joan Grier, their daughter, was born 29 Dec. 1931.

Gus tended the farm at Biggers and was employed by the Arkansas State Police Department from 3/20/1939 to 4/15/1939. He was the first Parole Officer for the department, which was formed in 1935. He was a member of the Arkansas Racing Commission. Family tales mention ownership of orange groves in Florida that Gus was involved in at one time.

He died 18 Nov. 1972, at Biggers, AR, and is buried along with his wife in the Hite Cemetery at Biggers, AR.

Benjamin Franklin Bigger

B. F. Bigger, born in Randolph County, moved to Pocahontas about 1881 and lived there until his death, 14 May 1917, at the age of 66.<sup>(a)</sup>

B. F. was the son of John G. Bigger of Randolph County, who was the son of James Norris Bigger of Kentucky, who emigrated to Randolph County, AR, while the country was a territory.

James Norris Bigger was born in 1807. He married Lucretia Parrish and died in 1872. <sup>(b)</sup> Their children included John G., William R., Chesterfield and Caroline.

B. F.'s mother was Catherine C. Lewis. His brothers and sisters included: Mary F., b. 1850; John P., b. 1853; and Francis Marion, b. 1857.

Other children died young and are buried in the family cemetery (Bigger Hills) at Attica.<sup>(i)</sup> After John G.'s death, Catherine married William T. Breeding, and is buried at Shiloh Cemetery, Five Mile Springs, AR<sup>(c)</sup>

At the age of 22 years, B. F. married Ida Josephine Simington in Doniphan, MO.<sup>(b)</sup> She was the daughter of Col. Thomas S.

B. F. was mainly self-educated, his knowledge of business affairs acquired by contact with the world.<sup>(b)</sup> Up until 1881 he was engaged in farming for himself. He owned two farms, one comprising 600 acres and the other 400 acres, raising stock, grain and hay.

In 1881 he bought the Heavener Hotel. The hotel faced the river and had long steps leading down to The Frisco depot. A porch ran along the river side with twenty-five or thirty chairs, guests could watch the river boats and wait for the train to come in.

Mr. Bigger established the first telephone exchange in Pocahontas, operated by his oldest daughter, Kate. In 1900, he established the town of Biggers and built the Ida Mae Hotel, named after his wife, Ida, and a daughter, Mae. The Ida Mae burned on the morning of 9 May 1962. It was the end of an era.<sup>(e)</sup>

B. F. Bigger was a member of the firm of "Bigger and Russell," merchants in Pocahontas and was president of the Bank of Biggers from 1915 to 1916, and one of its founders.<sup>(f)</sup>

Many of the Bigger family are buried in the Masonic Cemetery in Pocahontas, some in the Oak Grove Cemetery in the county and Katie Bigger Harrison in the Hite Cemetery at Biggers.<sup>(h) (i)</sup>

In 1908, B. F. Bigger had a jeweler from S. Louis bring his wares to Biggers. All the girls picked out

Biggers. All the girls picked out rings, etc. Aunt Kate always wore her "South Pacific Pink:" pearl ring – rather large. Aunt May had a blue diamond ring. Aunt Ella had a solitaire diamond. His wife, Ida, had a sapphire broach now owned by a great great granddaughter. ©

The Bigger family has been in and around Pocahontas and the town of Biggers, AR, for over a hundred and fifty years and is still a prominent name in the community today. (i)

Arkansas E. Barbee

Arkansas E. Barbee lived a colorful life. She was widowed three times, accumulated considerable land and property, was one of the founders of the Bank of Pocahontas, and served on its first Board of Directors, 1903. (a)

She was born 2 May 1860 in Carroll County, AR. (b) This conflicts with the Arkansas Certificate of Death which shows a birth date of 2 May 1861. (c) The 1860 and 1870 U. S. Census of Carroll and Boone counties indicate she could have been born as early as 1859. Her marriage to C. W. Woolley 23 Jan. 1877, at age 16, confirms the year as 1860. (d)

Records throughout her life indicate she was known as A. E. with the exception of a Randolph County Warranty Deed, which used the name of America E. (e) The death certificate of her son, Charles Augustus Grier, lists her name as Ann E. Barbee. (f)

A.E. was the daughter of Hillary W. Barbee and Ellen (Eleanor) ____, his wife. Her family lived in Carroll County, AR, township of Jefferson and post office of Mt. Pleasant. (g) Boone County was formed from Carroll and Madison Counties on 9 April 1869, and the family is shown as living in Boone County in the same township and same post office in the 1870 U. S. Census. (h) Early records show a Hillary Barbee listed in the 1840 U. S. Census of Lawrence County, TN. (i)

The family is shown in the Arkansas 1850 Census of Phillips County, 1860 Census of Carroll County, and 1870 Census of Boone County. (j)

She was the last of twelve children; her brothers and sisters include: Lewis, b. 1835; Simon, b. 1836; Betsy, b. 1838; Mary, b. 1840; Ann, b. 1841; William, b. 1843; Nancy, b. 1846; Charlotte, b. 1849; Martha, b. 1853; Benjamin G., b. 1854; Elijah, b. 1856; Arkansas, b. 1859.

quite a bit before marrying A. E. and settled permanently in Randolph County in 1885. C. W. was an extensive cotton grower of Current River Township and was the son of J. L. and Serena (Walls) Woolley. J. L. was born in Alabama, a minister of the Primitive Baptist Church and a soldier in the Confederate Army. C. W. was a member of the A. F. & A. M. He and A. E. reared an adopted child by the name of Mamie Russell. C. W. died 7 March 1894, and is buried in Hite Cemetery.<sup>(l)</sup>

Widowed, A. E. married the second time in 1893 to Charles W. Grier.<sup>(m)</sup> He was born in Missouri; his father in West Virginia and his mother in Tennessee.

C. W. Grier was previously married and had a son by the name of Frank, born 9 July 1891. His previous wife is unknown but there is an Elvera Grier buried in Yellow Hall Cemetery located on the Grier Farm. Her tombstone states she died 18 Nov. 1892, age 32. She could be Frank's mother.<sup>(n)</sup>

C. W. and A. E. Woolley Grier had a daughter who was born and died on 9 Feb. 1897 and is buried in Hite Cemetery. Their second child, a son, was Augustus E. Grier, born 9 May 1901.<sup>(o)</sup> C. W. Grier died at his home near Biggers, AR, on Tuesday, 19 Feb. 1903, with pneumonia.<sup>(p)</sup>

A. E. for the second time was a widow, having been married only ten years to C. W. Grier. She now had a step-son, Frank, and her own son "Gus." It is uncertain what happened to the adopted daughter, Mamie Russell.

Her step-son, Frank, died as the result of a tragic accident in that the two boys were digging a tunnel on the banks of the Current River and it fell in, suffocating Frank. He is buried, along with his father, in the Hite Cemetery with a death date of 9 May 1904.<sup>(q)</sup>

A. E. married the third time to Dr. George W. Brumley, 29 May 1904.<sup>(r)</sup> In July of 1905, A. E. Brumley petitioned for appointment as Guardian of her son, Augustus E. Grier.<sup>(s)</sup>

The 1910 U. S. Census of Randolph County, Current River Township, listed the family of George W. Brumley, wife Arkansas E., and son, Charles A. Grier. Gus was born as Augustus E. Grier but he was later known as Charles Augustus Grier to identify him with his father, Charles W. Grier.

George died around 1914 and A. E. filed suit in Randolph Probate Court as a Final Settlement in the Estate of Augustus E. Grier, a minor.<sup>(t)</sup>

George Brumley had a colorful life also. Randolph County marriage records indicate he married as follows:<sup>(u)</sup> [name, date, her age, his age]
Mrs. Louisa E. Fields, 5/2/1888, 36, 37
Miss Jennie McAfee, 8/25/1891, 17, 39
Miss Emily Effie Daniels, 1/26/1893, 18, 39
Mrs. Luella Grisham, 4/24/1898, 36, 47
Mrs. A. E. Grier, 5/28/1904, 43, 49

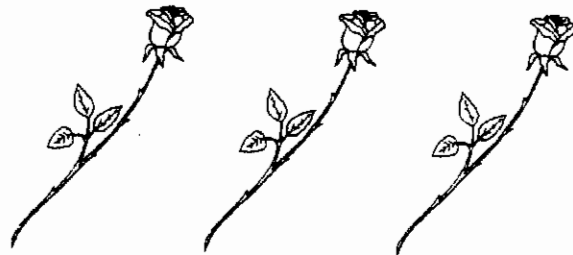

The 1920 U. S. Census of Randolph Co., lists Arkansas Brumley and her son Charles Grier.<sup>(v)</sup> Arkansas died 23 May 1930 in Biggers and is buried in Hite Cemetery along with husbands C. W. Woolley and C. W. Grier.<sup>(b)</sup>

The final resting place of Dr. George W. Brumley has not been determined. The obituary of Arkansas E. Brumley lists as her survivors, son Charles A. Grier and daughter, Maymie Helms.<sup>(t)</sup>

Arkansas Queries

General guidelines for submitting queries:

- 1) Queries are limited to members only
- 2) Please submit no more than one query per calendar year
- 3) Keep the query to approximately fifty words
- 4) Neatness counts! If possible, type, double spaced. Otherwise, print legibly leaving a space between each line.
- 5) Capitalize surnames
- 6) Remember the 4 W's"
- 7) Who - Give complete names of interest

What - What do you want? Keep it short and to the point

Where - Locality in ARKANSAS

When - Give a time period

Since we always work with a large backlog of queries, we strive to print them in the order in which they were received. It may be several months, however, before your query appears. We do use all queries received in a calendar year by the end of that year. We continue to receive queries with no name and address included. If the query gets separated from the envelope, we cannot use it. It simplifies the work of the all-volunteer staff of this publication if you send your query with your membership fee to Arkansas Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 908, Hot Springs, AR 71902-0908.
